Talking Points on Gephardt Stimulus Proposal

The plan does not meet its stated objectives. Gephardt says “We need policies devoted to one central purpose: creating economic growth with more jobs and higher wages for Americans.” “I am offering a five-point plan to restore economic growth, both in the short-run and in the long-term.”

-) His proposals will at best provide modest short-run stimulus, but impair long-run growth.
-) The heart of the economic problem is a slow recovery in business investment. Gephardt’s investment proposals are too modest to have substantial impact; the remainder of the plan impairs investment incentives.

Effect on the Economy and Budget. Gephardt’s plan calls for $125 billion in new spending and $75 billion in one-time tax cuts for households and businesses.

-) Gephardt’s plan calls for $25 billion in investment school construction, $25 billion in “protecting infrastructure from terrorism” and $25 billion “to help with the health care crisis.”
 - o States have capital budgets intended to insulate their school spending, infrastructure construction, and other long-lived projects from recessions. Any new spending induced by the Gephardt plan will be additional spending on top of normal plans – and likely to create demand for additional federal funds in the future.
 - o $25 billion of additional terrorism spending is targeted for “local police, fire fighters, public health workers...” This is not stimulus, it is building bigger government payrolls that are unlikely to be cut back in the future.
 - o $75 billion to “help with the health care crisis” is intended for “hiring of nurses, doctors, and other health care providers...” In short, this is a public-sector jobs program.
-) The total will not constitute short-run stimulus and it will not be temporary. If the new demands created are perpetuated, the $1.25 trillion over the next ten years will work to damage the long-run growth potential of the economy – at odds with its stated proposal.
 - o A $1.25 trillion increase in spending will create a demand for additional taxes. A tax increase of this magnitude will reduce GDP growth by nearly 0.2 percentage points every year – an impact that CBO projections would translate to $24 billion in 2010, but rise to $350 billion in 2020.

- Princeton University economist Harvey Rosen has estimated that the tax rate reductions passed in 2001 will lower the “deadweight loss” or pure drag on the economy – by roughly $40 billion in 2010. Taxes raised to cover Gephardt’s spending increases would forfeit this gain. To put this figure in perspective, note that it is about the same size as last year’s tax rebate of $36 billion – and it would happen every year.
 - Gephardt proposes $125 in new spending, but identifies at best $100 billion in unspecified “corporate welfare” – at odds with the notion that this proposal controls the size of government.
 - The prospect of higher taxes in the future will reduce incentives to save and invest.
 - These proposals are at odds with fiscal discipline. In the end, fiscal discipline requires controls on spending. Uncontrolled spending must ultimately be paid for with higher taxes.
-) Temporary tax cuts don’t stimulate investment.
- One-year tax cuts for investment are inadequate for the task and will not stimulate investment. They provide no bang for the buck.
 - The President’s stimulus plan called for – and enacted into law – 3-year partial expensing of investment.
 -) Three years matches the planning, budgeting, and replacement cycle for equipment and software – the critical part of an investment recovery.
 -) Partial expensing works just like an investment tax credit.
-) A one-time temporary tax cut or rebate for consumers will have little impact.
- When times are tough, families hang on to their money. One-time rebates will most likely be saved.
 - The President’s checks stimulated the economy because they were not a one-time affair. The 10 percent bracket is permanent – so the “check” comes every year. Real stimulus is permanent tax cuts.
-) Increases in the minimum wage and extensions of unemployment insurance will increase the unemployment rate.
- Increases in the unemployment insurance will cause the unemployment rate to remain 0.2 to 0.3 percentage points higher than necessary.

- Raising the minimum wage to $6.65 will have several effects, many of which are detrimental to low-income workers.
 -) More than half of minimum wage workers are under age 25, and only 34 percent are husbands, wives, or women or men maintaining families. The minimum wage does not target low-income workers and families effectively – only 1/3 of workers affected by the 1990 increase were at or near the poverty line.
 -) The minimum wage hurts employment. Evidence suggests that the number of families pulled above the poverty line by increases in the minimum wage would be no larger than the number pushed below by increased unemployment.
-) Gephardt is behind the curve.
 - The Administration has proposals to remove the tax-based incentives to move overseas.
 - The President has proposed initiatives to make workers' pensions secure.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20502

MEMORANDUM FOR DOUG HOLTZ-EAKIN

FROM: BOB CARROLL AND ADAM SAUNDERS

SUBJECT: State fiscal distress and state spending behavior

It has been widely reported that state governments have been subject to increasing fiscal distress due to a sharp down turn in revenues. For the first quarter of 2002, total state tax revenue was down 7.9 percent from a year earlier. The second quarter year-over-year decline is even larger – 10.9 percent.

The National Conference of State Legislators' estimates that in FY 2003, 14 states will have a budget gap, a measure of state fiscal distress, of 10 percent or more as a percent of their general fund budget. All states, however, are not facing severe distress – in FY 2003, 8 states are estimated to have no budget gap and another 5 states are estimated to have a budget gap of less than 1 percent.

States that anticipated the transitory nature of the revenue surge of the late 1990s, and put aside revenue in so-called "rainy day" funds, appear to be in a much better position, in contrast to states with substantial spending increases and tax cuts in recent years.

An analysis of current state revenue gap and state spending and revenue patterns during the last decade reveals that the states facing the greatest distress are those states that allowed spending growth to rise and revenue growth to fall during the late 1990s relative to their historical growth. In contrast, states that maintained spending and revenue growth at levels more consistent with their historical growth appear not to be facing severe fiscal distress.

State Budget Gap

The figure below considers whether the state budget gap (as a percent of the general fund) is, on average, higher for states with higher spending growth and lower revenue growth during 1997 through 2000, the period of the surge in state revenue, relative to their historical spending and revenue growth. The average state budget gap is a measure of state fiscal distress reported by the National Conference of State Legislators.

States are divided into two groups depending on whether they had high or low expenditure growth from 1997-2000 relative to their expenditure growth for the entire decade. The same grouping is done based on revenues, and the average state budget gap is reported for each combination on the chart shown below.

The pattern that emerges is that states with low revenue growth and high spending growth in the late 1990s, relative to their historical growth, are more likely to experience distress than states that kept spending and revenue growth in line with historical norms. In FY 2002, states with high spending growth and low revenue growth faced an average 11.6 percent budget gap. In contrast, low-spending states with high revenue growth faced only a 5.3 percent budget gap in FY 2002. A similar relationship is found for the 2003 budget gap and is confirmed in a more detailed statistical analysis.

Fiscal Year 2002

Expenditure Growth

		Low	High
Revenue Growth	Low	5.4 17 states	11.6 8 states
	High	5.3 8 states	6.3 17 states

Fiscal Year 2003

Expenditure Growth

		Low	High
Revenue Growth	Low	5.9 16 states	14.2 7 states
	High	3.5 8 states	8.3 16 states

QUESTIONS --11/1/02 2:30 PM

Analysis of Election Results

- Was this election a referendum on your leadership? Are these results a mandate for you of any kind?
- Do you think you help or hurt candidates that you campaigned for?
- Was the South Dakota race a test race between you and Senator Daschle?
- How does your performance compare historically with other Presidents in off-year elections?
- Has the tone changed in Washington? There were a lot of negative ads...the Wellstone memorial service was very partisan...etc
- What issues made a difference in these elections?
- Did your outreach to unions fail?
- Why was turnout so low? Does the low turnout reflect voter apathy with your agenda?

2004 Plans

- Are you running for re-election?
- Is this the first day of your 2004 re-election campaign?
- Will Vice President Cheney be on the ticket in 2004?
- (if losses among governors) Won't the loss of governors in key states hurt your reelection chances?
- Who do you consider to be the Democrat frontrunner for 2004?

Looking Ahead

- (if results are divided) What will you do differently to get legislation passed?
- Will you outline a new economic growth agenda? What will it look like?

- Will you continue to pursue your plan to reform Social Security?
- Will you be making changes to your economic team?
- Will you be making changes in your Administration?
- How can Americans have confidence in your efforts to reform corporate accounting when Chairman Pitt is so controversial? Will Chairman Harvey Pitt be replaced? Does Chairman Pitt have your confidence? Did Chairman Pitt withhold information from you? Should William Webster step down?
- Will you shift your political and congressional strategy to meet more often with Democrats and compromise more?
- What is the very first action the House and Senate should take when they return?

Iraq/United Nations

- Why did you delay the UN vote until after the election?
- If the UN agrees to a resolution, what will be the US government's standard to judge Saddam Hussein's compliance?
- You speak about building a coalition against Saddam Hussein. Can you list the specific nations – other than the U.K. – that support the US in their policy of regime change?
- Is Saddam Hussein an imminent threat to the American people? Why now? Do you feel that you have made the case for action against Iraq?
- What level of provocation by Saddam Hussein will it take for you to go to war?
- Can you envision a scenario where Saddam Hussein remains in power?
- Will your Iraq policy be considered a failure if Saddam Hussein remains in power?
- Do you have confidence in the inspectors' ability to account for Saddam's weapons?
- Do you plan to occupy Iraq after Saddam is out of power?
- Are you committed to spending the billions of dollars it will take to rebuild Iraq after Saddam is forced from power?
- Who will lead Iraq after Saddam is gone? What is your plan for a new government in Iraq?

- Do you have war plans on your desk?
- What is your timeline for military action?
- What kind of casualties should the American people expect from a war in Iraq? Are our forces trained and prepared enough to win in an urban combat situation?

Al Qaeda

- Is America winning the war on terrorism?
- Is Osama Bin Laden alive or dead?
- Can we win the war on terrorism and not kill or capture Osama Bin Laden?
- Has al-Qaeda reconstituted itself? Is al-Qaeda stronger today than it was before September 11?
- Do you think that civil liberties in America have been threatened by the Justice Department Investigations?
- How long will we hold the detainees at Guantanamo Bay?
- Are Americans who live overseas safe from terrorism?
- How long will troops be in Afghanistan?

Israel/Middle East Peace

- Can there be peace in the Middle East as long as Sharon and Arafat are in power?
- Has the rightward shift in Sharon's government made it less likely that there will be any serious peace negotiations in the future?
- Will you put a new peace proposal on the table for the region?

Homeland Security

- A recent report says that America is not prepared for another terrorist attack. Can you assure Americans that they are safer today than they were before September 11?
- Has there been any progress on the anthrax attack investigation?

- Why won't you just simply accept the Senate version of the Department of Homeland Security?
- Did the elections strengthen or weaken your hand in passing the new Department?

Crime

- Do you support increasing the use of ballistic fingerprinting to help solve crimes?

The Economy

- Is America caught in a jobless recovery?
- Is the recession over?
- Since you took office, more people are unemployed, home foreclosures are up, massive layoffs have taken place, and other economic statistics show Americans being adversely affected. Has your economic agenda failed? Has your economic team failed?
- What is your economic growth agenda?
- What has your Administration done to create one new American job?
- Will you make changes to your economic team?

The Deficit

- Will the budget be in surplus before 2004?
- What happened to the surplus?
- What is your plan to get the federal budget back in surplus?

Immigration

- The recent Haitian ship that arrived off the coast of Florida highlighted just how inconsistent our immigration policies are. Will you seek immigration reform to make this process more fair?

The Honorable Karl Rove
 Senior Adviser and Assistant to the President
 The White House
 Washington, DC 20502

Dear Karl:

I am writing to ask a favor – that you meet with the AEI Board of Trustees and others here sometime on Thursday, December 12, 2002, the day of our annual Board meeting.

We will be holding a series of policy briefings during the day – a sort of mini-World Forum involving the trustees and their spouses, a few outside guests (mainly our largest financial supporters), and AEI scholars. You could give remarks at breakfast or lunch or during the morning or early afternoon – or a dinner talk at our Chairman's Dinner in the evening. All the sessions will be private and off the record. A list of our trustees is attached.

In all events I hope that you and your wife might attend our Chairman's Dinner in the evening, which is usually an interesting and festive affair and includes several friends from the government. I should mention that I have also invited Don Rumsfeld to give the dinner talk at the Chairman's Dinner.

I would be very grateful to you if you were able to participate, in any way that suited your schedule, in this highly important day in the AEI calendar.

Many thanks for considering.

Yours cordially,

Susan,

I wanted Karl to have this, but didn't want to gunk up his Blackberry.

David Sibley

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE October 31, 2002
Congress must act -
ANOTHER ROUND OF MEDICARE CUTS
WILL HURT ACCESS TO CARE FOR AMERICA'S SENIORS
Statement attributable to: Yank D. Coble, Jr., MD
AMA President

"The decision by the Administration not to release the Medicare physician payment rule today in order to ensure accuracy is a good one. Errors in past calculations gave us the unintended Medicare payment cuts we're fighting now. Another round of Medicare payment cuts based on flawed data will have devastating consequences for America's seniors. "Congress must pass legislation early in the lame-duck session to avert a crisis in access for Medicare patients. Congress, the Administration and AARP all recognize that the issue of proper payment for physicians is unique and urgent. Government mistakes in calculating the Medicare payment formula led to a 5.4% cut in Medicare physician payments in 2002, and unless Congress acts Medicare officials have projected an additional 12% reduction over the next three years, totaling $11 billion.

"If Congress doesn't act, Medicare payments in 2005 will be back below the 1991 level, while physician practice costs are expected to rise by 40 percent during that period.

"Surveys by patient and physician groups show that previous payment cuts have led to growing access problems for Medicare patients. Medicare beneficiaries are already having trouble finding physicians to treat them in more than half the states surveyed, according to a survey by the Medicare Rights Center. An AMA survey found that 24 percent of physicians have either placed limits on the number of Medicare patients they treat or plan to institute limits soon.

"It is critical that Medicare officials get it right. Many private insurers and other public programs base their payments on the Medicare fee schedule. Military organizations have expressed concerns that Medicare payment cuts are causing serious access problems for retirees and active duty dependents enrolled in the Tricare program.

"Physician practices have reached their breaking point. Physicians want to serve America's seniors, but they simply cannot afford to accept an unlimited number of Medicare patients into their practices, while facing continued payment cuts.

"Medicare's foundation is crumbling, and the American Medical Association is making an all-out lobbying and grassroots effort to stop the destruction. We have urged physicians to make "house calls" on their lawmakers in their home states before the election and in Washington when Congress returns for the lame-duck session. Congress must stop these drastic cuts that will devastate the Medicare program."

Since 1862 there have been 15 midterm elections during the first-term of a Republican president in the White House.

- Democrats averaged a 34-seat pick-up in the House in those midterms.
- Republicans averaged a 28-seat loss in the House in those midterms.

Since 1922 (when the House went to 435 seats) there have been 6 midterm elections during the first-term of a Republican president in the White House.

- Democrats averaged a 32-seat pick-up in the House in those midterms.
- Republicans averaged a 32-seat loss in the House in those midterms.

The last time Democrats failed to pick-up House seats against a first-term GOP president was 1878 when Rutherford B. Hayes was in the White House; independents took 6 seats from Democrats and 9 nine seats from Republicans that year.

The ONLY time Republicans gained House seats with a first term president was in 1902, and that was only because the size of Congress expanded 29 seats (from 356 to 385); Republicans gained 9 seats, but Democrats gained 25 seats that year.

Dear Karl,

I will be in DC for most of next week working on a new ACU project – the National Lawsuit Abuse Task force – a project designed to unite the action of all interested parties on this subject.

I would enjoy a opportunity to discuss this with you briefly, and also introduce you to our new Executive Director, Chuck Muth.

If you had ten minutes open on your schedule next Wednesday or Thursday (11/6, 11/7) (after we keep the House and get the Senate back of course), we would be delighted to stop by briefly.

Please let me know if this is at all possible next week.

Hope all is well with you – and that you have some time to stop and smell the pumpkins tomorrow night!

Thank you for your consideration of this request.

K.

In the President's Words: Respecting Islam

The United States is a nation dedicated to religious tolerance and freedom, and President Bush has acted to ensure that the world's Muslims—from Dearborn, Michigan to Kabul, Afghanistan—know that America appreciates and celebrates the peaceful traditions of Islam. The following is a collection of President Bush's comments on Islam:

- “The face of terror is not the true faith of Islam. That's not what Islam is all about. Islam is peace. These terrorists don't represent peace. They represent evil and war.”

*Remarks by the President at Islamic Center of Washington, D.C.
Washington, D.C.
September 17, 2001*

- “I've made it clear, Madam President, that the war against terrorism is not a war against Muslims, nor is it a war against Arabs. It's a war against evil people who conduct crimes against innocent people.”

*Remarks by President George W. Bush and President Megawati of Indonesia
The Oval Office, Washington, D.C.
September 19, 2001*

- “The terrorists are traitors to their own faith, trying, in effect, to hijack Islam itself. The enemy of America is not our many Muslim friends; it is not our many Arab friends. Our enemy is a radical network of terrorists, and every government that supports them.”

*President George W. Bush's Address to a Joint Session of Congress and the American People
United States Capitol, Washington, D.C.
September 20, 2001*

- “Americans understand we fight not a religion; ours is not a campaign against the Muslim faith. Ours is a campaign against evil.”

*President George W. Bush Remarks by the President to Airline Employees
O'Hare International Airport, Chicago, Illinois
September 27, 2001*

- “I have assured His Majesty that our war is against evil, not against Islam. MEMORANDUM FOR PRESIDENTIAL ADVANCE OFFICE
WHITE HOUSE MILITARY OFFICE OPERATIONS
US SECRET SERVICE (PPD OPERATIONS)

FROM: JEFFREY KUHLMAN, MD
WHITE HOUSE MEDICAL UNIT
MEDICAL TRIP COORDINATOR, EASTERN EUROPE

SUBJECT: Updated Medical Advisory for the President's Trip to the Czech Republic, Russia, Lithuania, and Romania, in November 2002.

The White House Medical Unit offers the following information for those traveling in support of the President's trip to Europe in November, 2002. This advisory is based on the scheduled itinerary as of this date, and reflects the additional trip site, St. Petersburg, Russia. All previous medical information remains valid. Additionally, due to the risk of water contamination with heavy metals and the water-borne parasite, Giardia, drink only bottled water in St. Petersburg. Travelers deviating from the official itinerary should contact the White House Medical Unit (757-2476) for further medical travel advice.

Immunizations

Summary of Recommended Vaccines

- Routine/childhood vaccines
- Polio Booster
- Influenza 2002-2003 "flu shot"
- Hepatitis A
- Typhoid

Detailed Vaccination Information: All travelers should ensure that their routine childhood immunizations (tetanus, diphtheria, polio, measles, and varicella [chicken pox]) are up-to-date. A one-time booster dose of polio vaccine is recommended for travelers who have previously completed the standard course of polio immunization (this booster does not need to be repeated for subsequent travel). The Medical Unit also recommends that all travelers obtain hepatitis A and typhoid vaccinations. Hepatitis A is a viral infection of the liver that is usually transmitted by unclean food handling; the vaccine is a two-shot series, good for ten years. Typhoid is a bacterial infection also transmitted by unclean food handling; the injected vaccine is good for two years (an oral vaccine, which may be available through your personal physician, is good for five years).

Immunizations achieve optimal benefit when administered as soon as possible prior to travel (optimally at least 10 to 14 days ahead). The recommended vaccinations are offered to traveling passholders at the White House Medical Office in Room 105 of the DDEEOB (757-2476). Immunization hours are 9:00 to 11:00 AM and 1:00 to 3:30 PM Monday through Friday (the office is closed on weekends and holidays). Good medical practice and safety requires that you be monitored in the Medical Office for 15 minutes after receiving any injection. Vaccines also may be obtained through your personal physician or the U.S. State Department Travel Clinic at 663-1705 (copies of your official orders are required for the State Department Clinic).

The 2002-2003 influenza vaccine is available at the White House Medical Office and it is highly recommended for this trip.

Dietary Precautions

Although food from established restaurants is generally safe, we suggest caution in eating undercooked fish, shellfish, raw vegetables and salads from other than deluxe establishments. Tap water is safe in Prague. At all other locations we recommend bottled, or boiled and filtered, water only. As noted, the water in St. Petersburg has a high concentration of Giardia. Please contact a Medical Unit staff member if you experience gastrointestinal symptoms (e.g., bloating, diarrhea, or vomiting) that you believe are associated with travel.

European authorities have taken great pains to protect their herds from spongiform encephalitis ("mad cow disease"), but many physicians still recommend avoiding ground beef products or organ meats. While beef is considered relatively safe in Western Europe due to these extensive precautions, public health systems in Eastern Europe are not as well developed. Exercise caution in your meat selection.

Additional Issues (Items with "★" are additions to the standard travel precautions)

- ★ Eastern European countries have had increased rates of tick-borne diseases (such as Lyme disease, tularemia, and encephalitis). Travelers should avoid wooded areas (including urban parks) as much as possible. Insect repellents which include "DEET" can be useful, but they are not as effective against ticks as against mosquitoes. Avoidance of high risk (i.e., wooded) areas is the most effective prevention.
- ★ Fish tapeworm (cestode) infection is present in Lithuania. We advise strict avoidance of undercooked fish and roe.
- ★ Rabies is highly prevalent in Romania. Avoidance of dogs and all wild animals is advised. If bitten or scratched, promptly cleanse with soap and hot water and seek medical evaluation and treatment without delay.
- ★ The peak "flu" season is November to March. The 2002-2003 influenza vaccine is highly recommended for all travelers. The "flu" is usually common in these countries in November, and unvaccinated travelers are more susceptible when their immune system is "stressed" by work, travel, dietary changes, and sleep disruptions.

- Jet lag is “moderate” when traveling to central and eastern Europe, and may take several days to overcome. Jet lag is best overcome by adapting to destination sleep/wake and meal patterns as quickly as possible. Stay well-hydrated and exercise regularly. Early morning exposure to daylight will help reset your body clock. Late afternoon sunlight is beneficial on return. Sleeping pills will aid in initiating sleep, but will not reset your internal clock. Sleeping pills are prescription medications with potential side effects and drug interactions; please address the use of such medications with your physician prior to departure.
- HIV, Hepatitis B, and other sexually transmitted diseases are prevalent in most urban areas around the world. Prague and Bucharest have populations with unusually high reported incidences of HIV.
- Blood supply safety varies by country. Blood or blood products should be avoided. Be careful. Motor vehicle accidents are the number one “medical threat” to your health.
- Bring additional contact lens solutions, glasses, personal prescription medications, over-the-counter cold and allergy remedies, and pain/headache relief preparations.
- People who are prone to asthma or respiratory conditions should take extra precautions. People with known asthma should ensure they have an adequate supply of their medication.
- Tuberculosis is common in all developing countries. Romania has a prevalence of over 100 cases per 100,000 people, the highest World Health Organization (WHO) category. Annual skin testing (PPD) for possible TB exposure is highly recommended.

Additional travel medicine information or assistance with individual concerns is available from the White House Medical Office at 202-757-2476, or the Centers for Disease Control website, www.cdc.gov/travel. Please do not hesitate to contact the White House Medical Unit for further questions or assistance.

A medical unit representative will be at each site, and will have coordinated a medical care plan with each embassy. If you require any care during the trip or have specific individual concerns, please make our representative or the embassy medical officer your first call. Please note that if local (non-US government) medical services are required, most providers and facilities will require immediate (or possibly advance) payment by cash or credit card. US insurance will not be accepted, although in many cases, you can file for reimbursement on return to the US (contact your insurance carrier for specific details on your insurance company’s policies).

Press Release

For Immediate Release
Date: September 26, 2002

Contact Person: Anthony P. Lo Giudice

The Queens County Republican leadership supports President Bush's move to depose Saddam Hussein from power in Iraq

On behalf of the Queens County Republican Party, Chairman Serf Maltese and Vice-chairs Vincent Tabone and Phil Ragusa have sponsored and endorsed a resolution supporting President Bush's plans for a preemptive strike against Saddam Hussein and his arsenal of nuclear and biological weapons.

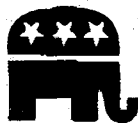

Attached hereto is copy of the resolution.

Chairman Senator Maltese: "As both Americans and as New Yorkers, we stand in solidarity with the President as he rightfully seeks to rid America and the free world of dangerous regimes that have harbored terrorists and sponsored terrorist attacks upon our country. It is imperative that President Bush receives bipartisan cooperation and support so that a despot like Saddam Hussein is prevented from using weapons of mass destruction against the free world. This resolution shows that the Queens County Republican Party supports the President's decision to use force against this vile dictatorship."

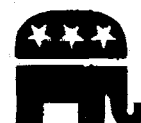

Vice- Chairman Phil Ragusa: "It is unfortunate and disappointing that the New York State Democratic Party opposes the preemptive war in Iraq and unwittingly allows this Iraqi regime to further increase its nuclear and biological capability inevitably posing an ominous threat to the security of New Yorkers and the rest of America. I would ask that they reconsider their September 23rd resolution in which they expressed disagreement with President Bush's decision for regime change."

Vice- Chairman Vincent Tabone: "This is not a time for rank partisanship. We, as Americans first, should stand united behind our President to ensure that tyrannical governments do not threaten the security of American citizens by continuing to actively sponsor terrorist acts here and abroad."

RESOLUTION

TO SUPPORT OUR PRESIDENT- GEORGE W. BUSH

In recognition of the grave and increasing danger presented by the ongoing illegal conduct of the Iraqi Dictatorship and its active weapons of mass destruction development and procurement programs. The Queens County Republican Committee resolves to publicly support, acclaim and voice our solidarity with President George W. Bush and his efforts to effect regime change. Furthermore, The Queens County Republican Committee urges the United States Congress to act in a bipartisan fashion and in the national interest to quickly and conscientiously pass a resolution ratifying our Commander-in-Chief's constitutionally mandated responsibility to take all necessary steps to protect the health, welfare and common defense of the United States of America. Such a resolution must appreciate the need to act preemptively rather than reactively because the Iraqi Dictatorship is known to have supported terrorist groups monetarily and logistically and has used biological and chemical weapons against minority citizens within its own state and against its enemies.

[It was felt necessary that the Queens County Republican Party put itself on record in support of President George W. Bush to counter any impression that the citizenry of New York State are not behind the President and the Congress and our Troops; given the unfortunate and ill-timed resolution passed by the New York State Democratic Committee opposing preemptive strike against Iraq adopted by hundreds of delegates at the party's semiannual meeting in Syracuse on Monday September 23rd].

The Honorable George W. Bush and Laura Welch Bush
The President of the United States of America, and the First Lady
The White House
Washington, DC

Nov 15, 2001
9/11 plus 65 days...

Dear President Bush and Laura, My Friends,

I've watched and listened carefully to your communication to the UN, the USA, and our world. Thank God, am I thankful and proud of you! And for your Great Leadership, Vision and New Strength for the USA. And for your fine, hard-working Vice President - Dick Cheney, your Staff and Cabinet Members. And for all the other people who are helping you and all we Americans face our requirements, challenges, and vast new opportunities. God's wisdom, strength and sure guidance and help be on you--each one and all, and with all Americans.

I drove out to San Saba at 0200 hrs., last Sunday morning, Nov. 4, 2001, arriving here Tuesday. I've spent a great three days with my class mates and friends out at Ft. McNair, The National Defense University. All the troops are unified and totally with you, my Friends; there is no second-guessing, murmuring, disunities, or hesitations. For those great blessings we can be totally thankful and grateful on this Memorial 11 Nov. 01 date. (And this Thanksgiving).

Mr. President and Laura, I've shared widely, many, many copies of my working petitions and communications to all your grades, ranks, and civilians this week... and over the past several years... Sir, they are informed, ready, and able To Roll on these great and world-wide works for justice, for freedom, for liberating, and for cross=civilizing and cross=educating together our entire human family... so we can understand, appreciate, and live simply and productively together and better - even with all our differences, peculiarities, fears, and hopes... better. You are the Leader. Lead. Please.

Therefor My Friends, I plead most fervently and persistently... please start launching our partnered=sister 2nd through 12th grade schools. Start launching our USA colleges' and Universities', small numerous branch campuses... Thereby, now giving our Nation's and World's young people real hopes, and the real ways and means, to help and to be helped... by one another... from now on.

Think of these massive new investments, as "swiftly-led, continuously-spreading, programs of inoculations and vaccinations against the root causes of terrorism, despair, lack of hope for justice and for productive, skilled, upright lives." Here is a new table showing how US DOD, NATO, PFP, and others can help launch, build-up, and perform these works. May God help us all in these works which are your ultimate, state of the art, real coalition builders.

Mr. Putin, selected by Mr. Boris Yeltsin ... and the "the Alaska Solution, Part II" or the Russian=USA Strategic Sartnerhip...? 25.0 million Russians' dying, destroying 10.0 million Hitler Nazis, saving 7.0 to 10.0 million Greatest Generation Americans' Lives... Then, no help from us-the spared, barely-touched, USA via the Marshall Plan. Mr. President Bush, ask God for the wisdom, strength, and sense of justice being done—to now perform to help our friends and allies (the Russians peoples) to cure and heal our common past... So that we can now build together the strongest foundation for an increasingly right and safe and prosperous 21st Century together.

Please, My Friends, do these necessary great works...starting now...at Crawford, Texas. Become as visionary, as determined, as good...as the great Thomas Jefferson's purchase of the Louisiana Territory; as Sam Houston's decisive, sudden victorious attack as San Jacinto; as Seward's swift midnight purchase of Alaska; as that great Texan Chester Nimitz's ambush of the Japanese Naval Air Forces at Midway; as your dad's great Liberation of Kuwait. As Houston says, "Do the right thing and risk the consequences." As Jesus says, "Rich man...your crumbs can save Lazarus' life...and God shall construe your faithful stewardship (like Abraham's obedience) to be righteous, righteousness...and salvation. And not risking but avoiding God's Living Fire." God bless you, My Friends...so we can all be blessed, safe, spared.

Abraham? The wars which are Abraham's House (Patton, against the wall, the horrible weather in the Long, freezing darkness of the Battle of the Bulge... realized... finally... that he needed to get with God...needed to ask for God's help...so he asked the Chaplain to write the prayer for him to pray...and God cleared the bad weather away...many, many, dark Nazis against white snow in brilliant sunshine Dec. 24, 25, 26...1944...the beginning of the end of Hitler's Nazisms! By the grace of God. By His favor to us...when General Patton humbled himself and prayed.) Ergo, please Sir, do the Beth El Invocation Prayers now...to invoke and trigger God's mercies and cures on all Abraham's descendants, and in turn, My Friend, on all of us. It is our only hope. And we should pray accordingly. God Bless you. God Bless us all. God be praised and thanked in the highest for He is good.

I am your humble servant,
Bernard Goss HIS of Austin Texas

FOR: President Bush, The President of the United States, Washington, D.C.

SUBJECT: Possible Actions... For Your Second 100 Days.

President Bush, Do You have a New Speech Writer? Watching Your recent speech... you're hitting the right buttons... Directly! Effectively! To wit:

1. Making the most of the moment... This Fleeting Here and Now.
2. Mr. President, What a Super Idea! Your Record? To help win The Congress again in 2002? And the 2004 Presidential Race? What to do?
3. There's A Global Society Ahead... Are Global Educations our real requirements, preparations, opportunities? Necessities? I think so...
4. T R Roosevelt's "Taking The Long Look Ahead..." 2, 4, 8, 15 years? 50 years?
5. Our Nation's and The Developed World's AGING Population... Our Graying Sunset? Caused by our Boomers' 63,000,000 abortions since 1972? What's our pertinent "music"? Drovak's "Going Home"? Or, "Chickens Coming Home To Roost"? "From This Valley The Say We're Going"?
6. The Children... Ours? Theirs? The 2,000,000,000 youngsters overseas?
7. Putting human faces on the global economy... Global Society? More and more Globally Cross=Educated Children?
8. Religious Hatreds around the world... Where? Then Please Do The Beth El Invocation? Now. Why not? Get Almighty God working to cure these otherwise never-ending blood baths? Nothing else can work.
9. To help give everyone a shot at The American Dream... How? Doing The Global Educations? When?
10. Mr. Putin? Can you and Dick Cheney do a Real Look Ahead with him? To Get All the NBCs down?
11. Mind, Spirit, Body engaged in productive work... GWB? The VP? Laura? Lynne? Which Works? When?

President Bush, are there things you and Dick can do which can help you both become tremendously successful? Possibly winning the Nobel Prize...?

Strong, Positive, Constructive
Hits on Bush's Points Above.

Mr. Karl Rove
Senior White House Advisor
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, D.C. 20502

Dear Mr. Rove:

I am pleased and excited that you will consider delivering the 2002 Rocco C. Siciliano Lecture at the University of Utah. The forum's inspiration comes from Mr. Siciliano's extensive involvement in both the public and private sectors. He served as Assistant Secretary of Labor and then Special Assistant to President Eisenhower and later Under Secretary of Commerce for President Nixon. Currently, Mr. Siciliano chairs the Dwight D. Eisenhower Memorial Commission.

We are extraordinarily proud that a former University of Utah student and Hinckley Institute intern has risen to your position of respect and trust as a key member in the inner circle of advisers to the President of the United States. Thus, I would be deeply honored if you could present the keynote address for this influential forum that has developed into a premiere event for the University of Utah. Anthologies from recent Siciliano Lectures are enclosed.

We will work to schedule the 2002 Siciliano Lecture to fit your availability and convenience, but want it to occur between the 2002 elections and the last day of fall classes on December 5th. The best dates for us, listed in order of preference are: Monday, November 18; Wednesday, November 13; Wednesday, November 20; Monday, November 25; Monday, December 2; Tuesday, November 12; and Thursday, November 14. If none of these dates is convenient, we can discuss alternatives.

We will coordinate scheduling and travel details through your assistant. We hope you will be able to arrive in Salt Lake City in the late afternoon on the day before the Siciliano Lecture and leave either the evening following your lecture and the follow-up panel discussion at the Hinckley Institute of Politics, or the next morning. Steven Ott, Dean of the College of Social and Behavioral Science, will be your primary contact at the University of Utah for these events. Dean Ott and his staff will handle all arrangements for you and any others who may join you. I will ask him to make contact with your assistant in the next few days. I have also enclosed his business card.

Rocco C. Siciliano Forum

Considerations on the Status of the American Society

The Siciliano Lecture is the cornerstone of the annual Rocco C. Siciliano Forum. The lecture defines and shapes the issues and debates for other Siciliano Forum events that will surround and support your lecture. These will include a dinner to honor you as the Siciliano Lecturer, special courses offered in the Department of Political Science, and panels and colloquia at the Hinckley Institute of Politics. We particularly hope that you will be able to participate on an always-lively panel discussion at the Hinckley Institute, hosted by Ted Wilson immediately following your lecture.

In your lecture, we hope that you will address the implications of the changes in demographics in the United States on political processes. Population changes have attracted widespread public attention this year in Utah because of the dramatic 2000 census findings, redistricting, and the media coverage that the 2001 Siciliano Forum and Alejandro Portes attracted. Also, Rocco Siciliano is a second-generation immigrant who has had a life-long fascination with the political, social, and economic effects of immigration and changing demographics. Thus, this topic would please him greatly. You know well that this suggestion leaves considerable latitude to address a variety of rich issues including, for example, the politics of the "new demographics" in the U.S., and ethnic-related political initiatives and strategies. If this area does not fit well with your interests, however, we will be glad to talk with you about alternatives.

We look forward to offering an exciting set of programs around your lecture in collaboration with the Siciliano family, the Department of Political Science, the Hinckley Institute of Politics, and the College of Social and Behavioral Science, including the panel discussion at the Hinckley Institute of Politics.

Ms. Ralston,

Please find two attachments to this email with Mr. Rove's travel itinerary. He will be leaving Dulles on Tuesday, November 12 at 2:00PM on United #435 connecting through Denver and arriving in Salt Lake City at 6:38PM. This is a change from the original information. The United #1295 was cancelled. The #435 flight leaves 25 minutes earlier. If there is a problem with this change, please let me know.

The second attachment is the return flight. He will be on Delta #1800 leaving Salt Lake City at 4:40PM and arriving at Dulles at 10:35PM.

These attachments serve as Mr. Rove's electronic tickets and he will need to take a copy of them to the airport.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need me to make any changes. I look forward to working with you.

MEMORANDUM FOR: KARL ROVE
FROM: TOM C. KOROLOGOS
SUBJECT: Siciliano Lecture

As we discussed last night at Ted Stevens fundraiser (the President was great!) I am forwarding some dates for the Siciliano Lecture at the University of Utah for your consideration—all of them after the election as you suggested.

They would like to do it before classes end for the year which leaves November 12, 13, 14, 18, 20, 25 or December 2. If none of these works for you we can see if there are other ones.

As you may know Rocco Siciliano is John Siciliano's father. John is Josh Bolten's very close friend, rooming together when John was an intern for me in Senator Wallace F. Bennett's office in the 60s and maybe 70s.

In your Utah days you probably had more than one meal at the old Capri Restaurant (owned by Rocco's father) on West Temple and First South.

I am also enclosing a copy of the original letter to you from the University outlining the particulars of the lecture.

By the way, I'm probably going to attend to hear you.

J. Bernard Machen
President

Mr. Karl Rove
Senior White House Advisor
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, D.C. 20502

Dear Mr. Rove:

I am pleased and excited that you will consider delivering the 2002 Rocco C. Siciliano Lecture at the University of Utah. The forum's inspiration comes from Mr. Siciliano's extensive involvement in both the public and private sectors. He served as Assistant Secretary of Labor and then Special Assistant to President Eisenhower and later Under Secretary of Commerce for President Nixon. Currently, Mr. Siciliano chairs the Dwight D. Eisenhower Memorial Commission.

We are extraordinarily proud that a former University of Utah student and Hinckley Institute intern has risen to your position of respect and trust as a key member in the inner circle of advisers to the President of the United States. Thus, I would be deeply honored if you could present the keynote address for this influential forum that has developed into a premiere event for the University of Utah. Anthologies from recent Siciliano Lectures are enclosed.

We will work to schedule the 2002 Siciliano Lecture to fit your availability and convenience, but want it to occur between the 2002 elections and the last day of fall classes on December 5th. The best dates for us, listed in order of preference are: Monday, November 18; Wednesday, November 13; Wednesday, November 20; Monday, November 25; Monday, December 2; Tuesday, November 12; and Thursday, November 14. If none of these dates is convenient, we can discuss alternatives.

We will coordinate scheduling and travel details through your assistant. We hope you will be able to arrive in Salt Lake City in the late afternoon on the day before the Siciliano Lecture and leave either the evening following your lecture and the follow-up panel discussion at the Hinckley Institute of Politics, or the next morning. Steven Ott, Dean of the College of Social and Behavioral Science, will be your primary contact at the University of Utah for these events. Dean Ott and his staff will handle all arrangements for you and any others who may join you. I will ask him to make contact with your assistant in the next few days. I have also enclosed his business card.

2002 Rocco C. Siciliano Forum
Considerations on the Status of the American Society

Mr. Karl Rove
Senior Advisor and Assistant to President George W. Bush

Wednesday, November 13th

Topic of the Lecture: We hope that you will address the implications of the changes in demographics in the United States on political processes. Population changes have attracted widespread public attention this year in Utah because of the dramatic 2000 census findings, congressional redistricting nationally and in Utah, and the media coverage that the 2001 Siciliano Lecture by Professor Alejandro Portes attracted.

Also, as a second-generation immigrant, Rocco Siciliano has had a life-long fascination with the political, social, and economic effects of immigration and changing demographics. Thus, this topic would please him greatly. You know well that this suggestion leaves considerable latitude to address a variety of rich issues including, for example, the politics of the "new demographics" in the U.S., and ethnic-related political initiatives and strategies.

If this area does not fit well with your interests, however, we will be glad to talk with you about alternatives.

We look forward to your visit and to an exciting lecture. All events will be coordinated with the Siciliano family, the Department of Political Science, the Hinckley Institute of Politics, and the College of Social and Behavioral Science. A preliminary schedule is attached.

Dear Susan:

Attached is our draft of the plans for the 2002 Siciliano Forum. As you can see, we have Mr. Rove arriving in Salt Lake City on Tuesday, November 12, at 9:02 p.m. The schedule for Wednesday is crowded but it will allow him to return to Washington, D.C. on Wednesday evening. We have two ~~first-class~~ tickets reserved for these flights.

As you can imagine, we are ^{Ho} most excited about Karl's visit and hope to begin publicizing the Forum as soon as you confirm the schedule.

Thanks for your help.

Sincerely,

J. Bernard Machen
