Fellow colleagues and friends,

Friday afternoon I will be leaving the gates of the White House for the last time as a member of the staff. I am moving back to Houston where, starting in January, I will be attending South Texas College of Law.

This marks the end of an incredible journey that began in 1998 with an internship on Governor Bush's re-election campaign. I am lucky and grateful to have known each of you and to have shared the events of the past four years with such a great group of people - I will miss you all. Finally, thank you for your friendship and the special memories that I will take back to Texas.

Let me know if you are ever in Houston, and please stay in touch.

All the best,

Brent
